

Legal Support Services BSDA Members

The Walker Morris multi-disciplinary Food & Drink Team offers clients a full range of legal expertise across all areas of their businesses. We understand the food and drink industry as a whole and the challenges and pressures that it faces. We provide advice from an holistic and commercially pragmatic perspective.

Through our support for the British Soft Drinks Association we are able to offer members our specialist expertise at competitive discounted fee rates.

The Team, which enjoys national recognition, has experience of partnering with its clients to develop systems and better ways of working and is able to provide advice which is wider in its scope than just the matter in-hand. As a result, and through our breadth of industry experience, clients receive a value added service of the highest quality.

The Team understands the importance of, and is always looking to develop, long-term relationships with its clients. It continually looks to add value through the provision of training sessions and know-how updates as well as the staging of sector-specific networking events featuring high-profile speakers such as its Food & Drink Leadership Dinners, which have been run annually since 2012 and which have attracted leading industry participants, with previous speakers including Mike Coupe, CEO of Sainsbury's, Andy Higginson, Chairman of Wm Morrisons and Heather Hancock, Chair at the FSA.
